STUDIO POLICIES

Illness

Please do not come to your lesson with any contagious ailments!
Not an issue when having a Skype lesson, though it is best to rest the voice if you are experiencing a cold, sore throat or excessive coughing.

Cancellations

Cancellations of less than 24hrs will be charged at the full price

Prepaid Lessons

- Unless otherwise agreed between the client and teacher prepaid lessons must be taken within 12-months of the initial payment or the payment/balance will be forfeited.
- This policy also applies to gift vouchers.

What To Expect Initially

- Before the first lesson you will be asked some background history based around your performance, singing and medical history, if relevant.
- At the first lesson Line will assess and discuss with you your voice, singing and performance needs and goals.
- She will introduce you to a range of exercises and strategies to address problem areas. This may include vocal technique, breath management, performance strategies, physical exercises and practice techniques.
- Referrals can be made to suitable medical and health practitioners if necessary.

What to bring to first lesson: 1 or 2 songs and, if relevant, medical info.

Ongoing

- It is advised that the first lesson is 1 hour, then a minimum of weekly 30 minute sessions if you want to build and strengthen your voice and to change bad habits. Of course it really depends on your goals, motivation and financial situation.
- Line can play basic piano accompaniment and backing tracks are available. If you have specific songs/keys or originals then you will need to provide the backing, accompaniment or music.
- It is highly recommended that the lesson is recorded so you can practice between lessons and re visit the instructions. This can be done on an MP3 recording device; mobile phone or Line can record and send you the MP3 online.

Dexter the Border Terrier extraordinaire

Let Line know if you have a problem with dogs as Dexter hangs out with her when she teaches.

So far he hasn't wanted to join in, too busy sleeping or chewing a bone!!
